COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Board of Selectmen at their meeting Monday night, Sept. 27, faced a long and varied agenda.

The Board approved an entertainment permit for Associated Hosts Corporation doing business as The Opera House. Jay Myers and Kevin Mornello will be opening this restaurant in the former Luce Oil Building.

John Gray of P. H. Chadbourne Co. met with the Board to discuss the Town working in cooperation with the company in developing alternative state legislation relative to the taxing of forest land. The current state tree growth law contains several sections which need improvement. The Board directed the manager to work with the Chadbourne Co. using what time the Manager feels he can devote to the project.

The Manager informed the Board of the two price quotes received for winter salt. Granite State Mineral quoted $26.90 per ton for solar salt (dried sea salt) and W. H. Shurtliff Co. quoted $27.20 per ton for land-mined rock salt. The highway foreman explained that the solar salt did not work as effectively as the land salt and indicated that the state and a number of other towns have had poor experiences with this salt. Following discussion, the Board voted to purchase salt from the Shurtliff Co.

The manager explained that because of a misunderstanding between himself and the Water District, a new hydrant that was to be installed on the Northwest Bethel Road, will not be installed this year. Following this discussion the Board directed the manager to request that the Fire Department inspect all existing hydrants, and report any malfunctions or needed improvements to the manager.

The Board authorized the manager to obtain surveying assistance as needed to define road rights-of-way in areas where brush cutting is necessary but where road limits are not known.

The automobile excise tax policy was discussed and the Board directed the Town Clerk to obtain information from surrounding towns on how they handle the process.

The following persons were appointed as ballot clerks: Judith Young, Judith Haskell, Pearlino McMillin, John E. Grover, Margaret Davis, Paul McGuire, Michelle Keyes, Constance Hindman, Agnes Thurston, and Linda Gilbert.

In other business, the board signed a quit-claim deed for Wendy and Bernice Rice, signed annual IRS forms pertaining to the employee retirement system, and reviewed scheduled DEP improvements for FY77.

The 1976 tax rate was set at $16.50 per thousand valuation. This rate is lower than the $39.00 per thousand rate in 1975 because of the revaluation of town property to 100% of market value.

The Board directed the manager to develop a list of projects initiated since the beginning of the year and to periodically review the status of these projects with the Board.

The Board held an executive session regarding an employee personnel problem.

Magalloway & WILSON'S MILLS

— Mrs. Bertha West, Corres. —

Clarence West is home after a visit with his daughter, Ruth Emerson and family in Littleton.

Last Tuesday noon, my neighbor called me to go look out my bedroom window. A huge bull moose had come out back of my trailer and was just across the drive way. When I moved the curtain he decided it was no place for him and moved on over down past the town hall to the river.

There have been numerous coyotes seen in the district lately.

A big bear got into Clarence Gray's Cook Camp by tearing a window out, and helped itself to 20 pounds of pork chops. This is in the Parmacheene area.

Mr. and Mrs. Burman Francis of Norway were at their camp for week end.

Mrs. Margo Stanley and daughters, Donna, Leah, and Bobbi Lyn were calling on her grandmother, Bertha West, Sunday. They live in North Stratford.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Glover and three children who have been on a vacation in Eaton, Conn., returned home Sunday evening. They took in the Eastern States Exposition while away and reported a very enjoyable trip.

Katherine Arsenault and daughter, Karen, called on her grandmother, Bertha West, recently.

Roy Edwards has a logging job in Jefferson and only gets home on the week end.

Clarence West and son, Lee, had their mill going on the week end saving out some logs that were on the roll-away as it is reported that they have sold the mill.

Wayne Littlehale who has been on the sick list for the past three weeks is much better and hopefully the doctors let him go back to school today. He is a senior at Berlin High.

Elaine Sweett spent the week end with friends in Colebrook.

Thomas Hardy who has been in Quebec for the past month visiting his daughters and other relatives, returned home last night.

Betty Hibbard has been tending the Abbott Brook gate in his absence.

Clifton O. Littlehale did the barn chores for Donald Glover while he was away.

The Donald Glovers were in Milan and Dummer Sunday.

Aziscoos Grange had their meeting Saturday evening with 21 members and two visitors present.

School started Sept. 8 with school in Magalloway this year. Muriel Littlehale is transporting the children from Wilsons Mills to Magalloway.

Bertha West went to Berlin for a check up Friday morning and stayed at her daughters in Milan until Monday afternoon while they went to a wedding in Stoneham, Mass.

Donald Glover is building a shed to store his farm equipment in.

Mrs. Addie Lancaster and daughter Ruth Noyes called on me Tuesday.

Ruth Noyes was in North Stratford over the week end caring for her two great grandsons while their parents were away.

Letters to the Editor
Sept. 27, 1976
Did YOU pass the STOPPED school bus?

Are you the driver of the two blue pickup with built-up side boards that passed this bus? Remember it was Friday, September 17 in N. Bethel, Rt. 2, on the Rumford Road around 11:25 a. m.

You must have seen the flashing red lights, as it is a straight stretch of road and YOU passed from the rear. I am sure you DID NOT see my son in front of this bus getting ready to cross the road. This was the first day that there were not two little boys getting off this bus.

Seconds saved my son from injury or death by you. You were going too fast to stop when passing the bus, but you did have time to STOP behind the bus. Would these same few seconds meant life or death to you?

We are both lucky this time, you did not kill or injure a child; and that there was a keen and alert bus driver behind the wheel.

How would you feel about a driver that just missed killing your child?

ADULT EDUCATION NEWS

S. A. D. #44's 1976 fall program in adult education is now in full swing this week. Final enrollment figures are not yet available, but approximately 200 people have signed up for courses. Yoga, Bookkeeping, Woodworking and English have proved to be the most popular subjects so far. An upholstery course, which is being held in the basement of the Congregational Church, is also well attended.

The gym at Telstar is now available on Wednesday evenings for basketball and Thursday for Volleyball. Anyone interested may join for an evening of fun and exercise.

Remember to refer any adult who would like help with reading to Dr. L. Shaw or Marie Wilson at Telstar or 824-2125.

Each week an article on Adult Education will focus on one particular class, its teacher and students. Anyone wishing to visit a class may do so. Details are available from Marie Wilson, Director of Adult Education.

Mrs. Phyllis Roberts, Pennsylvania and Mrs. Evelyn Hamlin of Alaska are visiting their mother, Mrs. Maude Hunt.

Mrs. Bruce MacDormand and Scott, Hampton, N. H., were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nickerson.

On October 1, 1976, with winter fast approaching, tents were scarce at New London, Conn. Nathaniel Shaw, Jr., wrote General Washington: "The 29th Co. I shipt. by Capt. Webster Seventy Two tents which was sent me by Daniel Tillinghast Esq. of Providence and hope they will get safe to hand."

MINORITY GROUPS CAN WIN
Dr. J. Phillip Jackson, Community Church, Rumford Center

In this age of big things, mass production; mass movements; mass confusion; we are inclined to neglect the important influence of the minority. There is a growing tendency to get our eyes on the big things and events around us. The history of all revivals in the past shows that the invariably small group of individuals or a small group of individuals. The early Pentecostal Revival began with Peter and the hundred and twenty in the upper room at Jerusalem.

In a County where government is by majorities it is easy to overlook the influence of the minority. "For who hath despised the day of small things?" (Zechariah 4:10)

There was a time when Noah was a solitary figure because he believed that God would send the flood. Apparently he was the only man of what it could be said at the time of the flood that he was "perfect in his generations," and "walked with God." Doubtless, he was a subject of scorn and ridicule by the majority, yet his influence on all succeeding generations was greater than all the other people of his day, who doubtless numbered millions. Noah was in the minority.

BUT HE WON.
Abraham was also a lonely figure. It is said of him that God called him alone (Isaiah 51:2). His departure from Ur of the Chaldees was perhaps unnoticed by the majority. He made little stir in the world of his time, but the greater part of God's Word is about him and his descendants.

The king who ruled in his day is mentioned in only a few verses. Abraham was in the minority. BUT HE WON.

When Joseph was sold into Egyptian slavery by his brethren for twenty pieces of silver, and placed in prison for a protracted period of time by a lustful, lying woman, he was in decided minority. BUT HE WON. God brought him out of the pit and prison into a palace.

Moses was a lonely man when he left Egypt the first time because "he chose to suffer affliction with the people of God," who themselves did not always appreciate what he tried to do for them. The majority remained in Egypt another forty years, but eventually, the man who was in the minority led the majority in.

to liberty. Moses was in the minority... BUT HE WON.

When the shepherd David, scorned by his brethren, and ridiculed by his foe, went out to meet Goliath, physically the odds were against him. King Saul and the majority saw the giant and feared, but David saw the might of his God and dared.

David was a decided minority... BUT HE WON.

When Jesus Christ left His throne and crown for a manger and a cross, everyone thought the crucifixion was the end of everything. But the Victim of the cross became the Victor of the grave. He was a conspicuous minority... BUT HE WON.

This modern age in which we live offers us a challenge. Does God still have an influential minority? Yes, He does. The members are a little flock and few in number, compared with the children of this world... one or two here, and two or three there... a few in this parish, and a few in that. These are they who shake the universe. These are they who change the fortunes of kingdoms by their prayers... these are they who are the active workers for spreading the knowledge of Christianity, and who are the pillars of society tottering to its base. There are the Daniel's amid the snares of Babylon. These the Lots amid the worldliness of Sodom. These are the "few names" amid the indifference of Sardia, who have "not defiled their garments."

It is this influential minority that will be truly glorious at the end. When stars and satellites and moons have waxed and waned and departed, when all earthly glory has passed away... then shall this church be presented without spot before God, the Father's throne. Thrones, principalities and powers upon Earth shall come to nothing... dignities, and offices, and endowments shall pass away but the influential minority, the "Church of the first-born," shall shine as the stars of the morning, and be presented with joy before God's throne in the day of Christ's appearing.

So, members of the Redeemed Community should unite as the Sons of God in an alternate society until each member of the Body of Christ comes to the Unity of the Faiths.

SCIENCE AT TELSTAR! Want to study yeast and how it produces carbon dioxide? Perhaps the best way is to put the principle to the test and use a means that is relevant to the students? Pictured here is Brad Phillips (student teacher from the University of Maine and under the supervision of Mr. Kersey) and a basic science class making root beer. The yeast helps to supply the carbon dioxide which aids in the carbonation process. All the students left the room with a quart of their own product plus a better understanding of the principle behind the science lesson.

The Karen Brown brochures and posters were distributed. Frances Harding, Bob Monks' Area Coordinator, outlined plans for the fall campaign and reported extensive progress. Barbara D. Brown, chairwoman of the Candidates' Night announced that the event would be held at the Bethel Inn, Oct. 22. Candidates for state and national office are scheduled to attend. Tickets will be limited, but may be obtained by calling Mrs. Leland Brown.

AMBUSH IN AUGUSTA
Reprinted by permission
The Legionnaire, April 1976
Those of us who watch the legislative scene in Augusta have been intrigued by the creation of a special committee made up on the Executive and Legislative branches of Maine State Government and designed to seek out "low priority programs" for cuts reductions and possible elimination. Every citizen in Maine should applaud the efforts of the Governor and Legislative leaders to cut the "fat" from programs and to prevent unnecessary tax increases.

However, it is becoming increasingly clear on the Augusta scene that a few powerful organized groups and associations are in control and the demands of these special interests are being heard loud and clear. The people of Maine should become alarmed at the growing power of a few organizations seeking to build empires at the expense of those who can not speak for themselves. "Low priority programs" can well mean the destruction of efforts to assist those who cannot lobby for themselves, the silent people of Maine who suffer because there is no one to speak up for them.

There are indications that this Special Joint Executive-Legislative Committee dealing with program priorities have cast a jaundiced eye on the Bureau of Veterans Services and such programs as World War Assistance and the Maine Veterans Memorial Cemetery. Some other programs affecting the sick, disabled and poor as well as the handicapped and aged may well be in for reductions. Maine veterans who were once told that they did not get a bonus upon return from service as in other states because of the creation of the Bureau of Veterans Affairs now may be told the programs of the Bureau affecting veterans, dependents and widows may be curtailed. The magical sight of hand going on in the Augusta scene and it is no wonder that the people of Maine have become disillusioned with government in general.

Unless the American Legion speaks up and is heard both in Augusta and Washington on the needs of the veteran, widowed and orphaned in Maine, then there is a great chance that our programs will go down the drain. Make no mistake about it. The past performance of the 107th Maine Legislature in the field of veterans affairs is a sad one.

The current loud voices being listened to on the Augusta scene are not reflective of the aims and purposes of The American Legion nor the veterans of Maine. Former President Harry S. Truman once stated "If you can't stand the heat — get out of the kitchen." It is time that Legionnaires and Auxiliary members woke up to the fact that the "heat wave" in Augusta could kill some much needed programs affecting veterans.

The American Legion must continue to give strong leadership to legislative programs affecting our veterans. This is OUR mandate. Can we do less?

It is time also, to tell the veterans who do not belong to a veterans organization, the FREE RIDE is over.

Twitchell, Hugh Stearns, Flossie Cairns, Mrs. Esther Rugg, April, Laurie, Tina and Carla Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Inman and Shelly, Mr. and Mrs. B. Wentworth and Margaret Barton.

TELSTAR SCORES ON OPENING KICK-OFF - TIED BY LISBON 6-6

The Telstar and Lisbon grid squads battled to a 6-6 stalemate in Mountain Valley Conference action at Lisbon Saturday afternoon. Both clubs now stand at a victory, a loss and a tie.

The Telstar Rebels tallied on the opening kick-off as Chris Mills gathered in the ball and raced 75 yards for the touchdown. A pass for the conversion points fell incomplete.

The Greyhounds tied up the contest in the third period after taking over a Telstar punt at midfield. Dale Crafts, who picked up 20 yards on seven carries during the drive, capped the march by hitting over from the four.

Crafts tried to rush the extra points but was stopped at the line of scrimmage.

Mike Osmond passes to Danny Madden, good for 12 and eight yards were key plays in the Lisbon march.

Telstar threatened again in the fourth period driving down to the Lisbon 20 before a long penalty set the Rebels back.

Osmond hit on seven of 15 passes good for 63 yards and Crafts picked up 90 yards in 28 carries to key the Lisbon attack.

Mills added 22 yards in three tries to go with the kickoff return for the Rebels.

STATE INSPECTION

BETHEL LIBRARY

Story hour is every Thursday from 10 to 11 for preschool children, ages 3 to 5. Mrs. Lillian Conant is story lady.

Art exhibit is by Handy Rickards of Andover.

In the future: Oct. 18 "Peanut Butter Readers" are coming to Bethel Library. This is a great opportunity for the 3rd and 4th grades for whom they will be performing. A work shop will be held in the afternoon 1 to 3 for adults interested in working with children and reading programs. Among those eligible are teachers, girl scout leaders, day care leaders, Boy Scouts, Sunday School, librarians.

This is sponsored by the Bicentennial Commission to 12 libraries in the state. We are proud to be one of those selected. Keep this date, Oct. 18, in mind. More details will be announced in the near future.

Our day begins at 8:30 when our early birds arrive. Brooks is on hand to greet them when their parent leaves them, and also prepares a nutritious breakfast.

After breakfast, clean-up and free play, Brooks tells the children down for story-time. When the remainder of the children, who ride the bus arrive, the pace at the center quickens. New arrivals hang their coats on their own hook in the coat room, and put away articles from home in their own cubbies.

Handwashing is followed by a combination breakfast (for new arrivals) and snack (for our early birds) and then all go to the bathroom where each child has his own toothbrush and glass.

Perhaps it is Sandy's turn for "Circle-time". Once the children are settled in a large circle she will have the good morning song, weather chart, sharing time and other learning activities. We also have started our "Star of the Week". This week's star is Todd Pacey.

Sandy, Judy, Donna and Brooks, as well as Sandy, will then offer activities such as painting and pasting, apple jelly making, nature walks and many more arts and crafts. The children have the chance to choose the project they are most interested in, followed by out-door play on good days.

Another circle-time follows clean-up time. This time we are joined by five kindergarten children who have just arrived by bus. Activities include a story, film strip or musical activity.

After hand washing we are given a nutritious lunch prepared by our cook, Lynda. When we are excused from the table we once again give our teeth a good brushing.

Out-door play follows lunch. When the bus students leave at 1:00—the remainder of the children choose two books from our library, take them to their own mat where they will nap after story time.

Awakening from their nap the children play with table toys until wash-up time for afternoon snack. Donna's late afternoon circle-time is followed by activities and free play until 5:00 when the last child has been picked up.

Menu—Week of Oct. 4
Monday: V-8 juice, hamburger patties, mashed potato, corn, fruit cocktail and milk.
Tuesday: Chicken legs, brown rice, baked squash, green salad, apple bars, milk.
Wednesday: Home-made vegetable beef stew, biscuits, cabbage salad, fruit jello, milk.
Thursday: Sausage links, green beans, noodles, blueberry bran muffins, milk.

Friday: Tomato-cheese pizza, raw vegetable sticks, strawberry yogurt, milk.

Lynda would like to say thank you to the Congregational Church for their generous donation of vegetables.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

As I came down from the hill and stood looking, the valley tree tops were etched so closely against the sky that their tops jabbed into its blue. A cool September wind rustled the turning leaves above me. It made a mournful sound; something like the singing of insects in a dew-covered cornfield on an August night. The air was fragrant with the smell of autumn leaves.

Suddenly at my right above the murmur of the rising breeze came a sharp rattle, a flicker like call. At first I thought of the flicker then realized the call was more powerful and louder.

Clearly revealed on a dead elm, the remains of a one time monarch of the forest, was a great black woodpecker. With head drawn far back and crest blazing in the sun, he scaled his watchtower to the far top. Once he opened a wing as if to flash its conspicuous white markings. Then he sprang away, with a diagonal flight down the air to lower tree, showing the great white area under his wings to fine advantage.

As I was a bit secluded, I watched him as he split off large slabs from the decaying tree, and chiseled out decaying wood directing attack against, no doubt, an infested section. Chips and bark flew in every direction as a result of his sledge-hammer blows in rapid succession, swinging his head through an arc of six to eight inches. At last he must have uncovered the insects and silence reigned while he extracted them. When I moved he flew for his sight and hearing are very keen. Again early evening, and the next day he returned. Maybe I had disturbed his meal and he came to finish, or possibly he was just enjoying the slow flowing pond water, its borders clogged with weeds and lily pads. Possibly he liked the September day-break when waters were calm, untroubled by the light breeze that barely fans the cheek or the far shore low and swampy and screened by water brush.

No matter what Pileated Woodpecker's reason for returning I hope he likes the slim spires that 1975-76 MAINE SENIORS TAKING SCHOLASTIC APTITUDE TEST SCORE AHEAD OF N. E. & U. S.

Maine high school seniors who took the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) during the 1975-76 school year recorded scores higher than either the New England or national average. Educational and Cultural Services Commissioner H. Sawin Millett Jr., has announced.

Average scores in math were four points above both the national and New England averages, Millett said. Verbal scores were two points higher than the New England average and six points above the national norm.

Millett reported that it is the first time in five years that Maine scores have averaged higher than the regional or national test results.

Average SAT scores have dropped consistently during the past 10 years on a nationwide scale, according to Millett, but he pointed out that Maine's yearly averages have not declined as dramatically as the average of national scores.

In the past five years verbal score averages in Maine have dropped 14 points while nationally they have dropped 22 points. Math test averages for Maine in the same time period have dropped four points compared to a 12-point drop in national math averages.

It is the drastic drop in SAT averages that has become a controversial cause for concern nationally.

On the other hand, Millett reported, the average scores for Maine students taking the Achievement Test (ACT), which combined with the SAT makes up the College Entrance Board Examination (Test), continue to run below the national and New England averages.

Millett said a factor to be taken into consideration in the Maine averages for the ACT is the larger number of students taking the test from this state. Nationally, only 23% of those taking the SAT take the ACT and in New England 40% do while in Maine 65% of those taking the SAT also take the ACT.

JACK FROST TO OPEN NEW SHOP IN BETHEL

This December, the Jack Frost Shops of Jackson, N. H., will add their first ski touring branch to their winter ski shop facilities.

The new center will be located at the 65-room Bethel Inn on the Common, and will offer cross-country equipment and accessories, rentals and lessons.

Cross-country trails start right at the Bethel Inn, with miles of marked trails, for beginners to experts, maintained throughout the Bethel/Sunday River Region. There are also extensive areas of unmaintained trails throughout the surrounding woodland countryside, which normally receives heavy snowfall from Thanksgiving well into the spring.

Jack Frost's other winter facilities are located in New Hampshire at Black, Tyrol and Wildcat Mountain ski areas, with the main store on Route 16A in the ski village of Jackson. The Jackson Village shop has been a center for Alpine ski equipment and fashions in the Mt. Washington Valley for 23 years. Since the organization of the Jackson Ski Touring Foundation in 1972, the Jack Frost organization has also been operating a Nordic Ski shop and ski school in the Touring Center next door to the main shop.

Stanley Howe, Randy Bennett, and Kurt Brown attended the Citizens for Historic Preservation Conference and the Colby College Art Museum Show "Maine Forms of American Architecture" at Waterville on Saturday.

KINDERGARTEN CLASS HAS BUS SAFETY LESSON

Richard Biske, supervisor of transportation in M. S. A. D. #44, gave an instruction on safety to the Bethel kindergarten class on Monday morning, on boarding and leaving a school bus. The use of the rear door was also demonstrated with the children leaving by the emergency door at the rear of the bus.

A demonstration of how to work the locks, if an emergency should occur, was given at this point. With assistance from the teacher, Mrs. Phyllis Crow, and a teacher aide, Nancy Cummings, the correct procedure on boarding a bus, and with particular emphasis on leaving a bus, and crossing a road or street, was demonstrated, and practiced by the young students.

Mr. Blake stated: "Get far enough in front of the bus so you can see the driver plainly, and he will signal you to cross, but always come to a full stop, look up and down the street, and if clear of traffic, cross. If a hook or anything is dropped, leave it. Have your parents or someone else pick it up after the bus leaves."

"An approximate six foot area around the bus is blind zone for the driver, and in all safety seminars, is called the death zone. Within that area, a child, bent over to pick up a paper, book or any object, is not visible to the driver and could be crushed under the wheels."

DEMOCRAT COMMITTEE IS HOLDING WEEKLY MEETINGS

The Bethel Democratic Town Committee held its weekly meeting on Sunday, Sept. 28, at the home of Rep. Emily Saunders. Rep. Saunders, who is a candidate for re-election in the 63rd District, reported on her recent visits in Gilead, Northwest Bethel, and the Songo Pond-Grover Hill neighborhoods. The candidate commented on how good it is to be able to renew acquaintances made two years ago in her first race for a legislative seat, and plans to be in the other District towns in the coming weeks. In addition, Rep. Saunders said that she is still busy with constituent problems, and with her participation on the committee presently seeking to institute Meals for Seniors in the Bethel area.

Town Chairman Paul McGuire announced that Leighton Cooney, Democratic nominee for the Congressional seat in the Second District, will be in Bethel on Friday, Oct. 8, from approximately noon to 3 p. m. Cooney has previously visited Bethel, participating in the parade and events on Mollyrocket Day. He has spent a good deal of time in Oxford County, and will go on to the Fryeburg Fair from Bethel on Oct. 8.

The Town Committee was happy to learn that Regina Croquey, who is a student at the University of Maine, Farmington, will be participating in Rep. Saunders' re-election effort as part of her course work in Political Science at the University.

In other business, the following Democrats will serve as Ballot Clerks on Nov. 2 in addition to those previously named: Connie Hindman, Linda Gilbert, Michelle Keyes, and Aggie Thurston. The next meeting of the Bethel Democratic Town Committee will be on Sunday, Oct. 3, at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Candidate Saunders on Spring Street. Volunteers are needed for many aspects of the national, state and local campaigns, and anyone wishing to help is urged to attend the Sunday night meetings.
